IN MEMORIAM

Catherine Granice. Died August 14, 1904

A SAD loss was sustained by the community last Sunday when the good woman whose name heads this article was called to her reward after an illness of just one week. The news of her death came as a sudden shock, as it was not generally known that she was ill; and of those who did know of her indisposition, none dreamed that it was of so serious a nature as to result fatally in so short a time.

Catherine Granice, endeared herself to a large circle of friends in this vicinity during her residence in Sonoma for twenty years. She was a woman of superior intellect, was active in social and fraternal circles, and a leader in clubs and organizations for the advancement of the cause of her sex. She took an active part in many celebrations held here and elsewhere during the last twenty years, all of which resulted in material benefit to the valley where she had chosen to make her home. The writer recalls her zeal and industry in materially assisting to make the gathering of the Mexican War Veterans in 1887 so decided a success. She assisted likewise in the Mechanics' Fair Exhibit in the same year when the Valley of Sonoma carried off over fifteen hundred dollars in prizes in competition with the richest counties in the State; in preparing a proper display of the products of Sonoma Valley for the Mid Winter Fair in 1894, and in other exhibitions. In all local affairs she likewise took a prominent part, always displaying the same untiring zeal and energy. She was also prominent in fraternal circles, and as District Deputy Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West organized a number of Parlors of the order in Sonoma, Lake, and Mendocino counties. She attended the meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs in St. Louis during the present year, and returned from that gathering only a short time before her death.

Prominent, however, as Mrs. Granice was in Clutdom and in Fraternal Circles, she did not neglect her domestic duties, and was withal a model wife and kind mother. She will be missed by her family from the family hearthstone where she ever presided with quiet dignity. The sympathy of every person in the community goes out to the members of the sorrowing family who have been bereft of their best and surest adviser and friend. Especially warm is the sympathy for the child of tender years, who most will need a mother's love and tenderness.

After all, there is but one standard by which all people should be judged, and that is the standard of good living. A person's life work should not be measured by the amount of riches he or she may have acquired, or by what offices or dignities he or she may have held. A life lived in righteousness is preferable to all these. A good name is better than precious ointment. The standard of good living is exemplified by the Golden Rule which admonishes us to do unto others as we would wish that they should do unto us. Judged by this standard, Mrs. Granice's life work was successful, and her life a success. The world was surely the better for her having lived. With a quotation from Carlyle which sums up and characterizes the energy and zeal which always distinguished the acts of the good woman whose work is now done, I will close this brief and imperfect sketch: "Cast forth thy Act, thy Word, into the ever-living, ever-working Universe; it is a seed grain that cannot die; unnoticed today, it will be found flourishing as a banyan grove after a thousand years."

THE BEAUTIES OF GRAHAM CANYON

"Such beauty and beneficence combined!
Shade unperceived so softening into shade,
And all so forming a harmonious whole."

Graham Canyon contains many charming homes; the scenery is wild, grand and romantic; a restful quiet pervades the whole landscape. But nowhere are the skies more blue, the hills more purple, the sunshine brighter or perfumed breezes blow more softly than over the home of the Schieck brothers in this charming valley. Born and bred in this beautiful spot, presided over by a warm hearted, practical busy mother, who, with the long years of residence in this glorious country, has forgotten none of her sturdy German training of early life, keeps the home shining and bright, a welcome that awaits all guests with a cordial, open-handed kindness and wide open door. David Schieck is a fine musician, with cultivated tastes and skillful hand—how could it be otherwise, drawing inspiration from such sources and surroundings—the sunshine and warmth and beauty, where everything is blooming—also, the grand symphony concert of countless wild birds of many varieties which swell the heart and makes one feel that they must take part in this harmony of praise.

One must be born with music in the soul, but to bring it to its highest state of perfection requires culture, application and practice. Mr. Schieck realizes this—has given long hours of study and thought, with constant training from skilled musicians who have made a life study and success of music, until now he leads in this divine science of music and harmony. Herman, the elder brother, gives more time to the raising of grapes; the willing yield of the soil shows in the heavily laden fruit trees and the big clusters of purple grapes ripening in the full flood of tempered sunshine which later is crushed into mellow wine and shipped all over the world. Both brothers are interested in this industry and each year the shipments grow larger. During the season of harvesting and crushing the grapes, the little hamlet of cottages scattered through the grounds are occupied by busy, contented, happy workmen, until their product of California's bottled sunshine goes out to the outside world to cheer, sustain and heal.

Both brothers are men of capacity, presence, integrity and perseverance—cheerful and social—Typical Native Sons of

"This land of heaven's peculiar grace,

This heritage of nature's noblest race."

CHAPPIE.

A Notable Young Woman.

Miss EMMA WELLER, who is Secretary of the Young People's Christian Association, at 1818 Madison Ave., New York City.

Your "Favorite Prescription" is a boon to sick and tired women, for it cures them when other medicines fail. I know whereof I speak, for I have had experience with it. For fourteen months I had constant headaches; seemed too weak to perform my daily duties, and when the day was over I was too tired to sleep well. I suffered from nervousness and indigestion, and everything I ate distressed me. Doctored with different physicians but received no relief. After reading one of your books I decided to give your "Favorite Prescription" a trial. Am very glad I did, for I found it was just what I wanted. I commenced to improve at once and kept getting better until, after seven weeks, I was entirely cured. I have remained in perfect health ever since, and remain a firm friend of your "Favorite Prescription."

Yours very truly,
Miss EMMA WELLER.
(From letter to Dr. Pierce.)

The woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organs, whether she realizes it or not, is being slowly but surely tortured to death. She suffers almost continually with sick headache. She has pains in the back, what she calls "stitches" in the side and shooting pains everywhere. She experiences burning and dragging down sensations. She becomes weak, nervous and despondent. If she consults the average physician, there is not one chance in ten that he will hit upon the real cause of her trouble. He will attribute her bad feelings to stomach, liver, heart or nervous trouble. A woman in this condition should consult some eminent and skillful specialist who has had a wide experience. Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., has with the assistance of a staff of able physicians, prescribed for many thousands of women. He used most frequently a wonderful medicine for ailing women, which he afterward put up in ready-to-use form and called it Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has stood the test for thirty years. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood, making them strong and well. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the nerves. It transforms weak, nervous women into healthy, happy wives and mothers.

"I was an invalid for over a year with change of life," writes Mrs. C. Smith, of Orr, Cascade Co., Mont. "Had pains across the pit of my stomach and such extreme weakness I could hardly walk. I took one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and five of his 'Favorite Prescription' and am entirely well."

A million of suffering women cry with uplifted hands for some relief from the pains and tortures of diseases peculiar to their sex. A million more suffer in silence rather than subject themselves to the abhorrent and humiliating examinations and local treatment so uniformly insisted upon by physicians.

"Female weakness" can be cured—surely, speedily—without exposure, with slight expense—without leaving your own home. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure any disorder or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Perhaps its greatest usefulness is in preparing women for the ordeal of childbirth. Taken during the expectant period it practically eliminates pain and danger at the time of parturition.

Write Dr. Pierce for advice and you will receive an immediate answer and without cost to you. All correspondence strictly confidential.

We also advise all women who suffer great pain at each recurring period to take a good vegetable laxative, such as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, just previous to this time, as constipation is usually an aggravating feature of the trouble.

Don't allow the druggist to sell you something "just as good," because it's cheaper. The cheap kind has not the thousands of cures to its credit that Dr. Pierce's medicine has.

Miss CARRIE SPRECHER, of Mount Morris, Ill., writes Doctor R. V. Pierce as follows:

"I was back in my old home when your letter came. I will try and explain regarding the good I received from your medicines. For over one year I suffered from what my physician pronounced womb trouble. Had doctored with doctors in the east and also in the west but found only temporary relief. The next time of my sickness I found myself no better, and in that way it kept going on from time to time until I became discouraged. I finally resolved to write you for advice. I purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and by using only that small quantity I have found wonderful relief. I say to all who are suffering from troubles similar to mine that it is unnecessary to be sick when one can use Dr. Pierce's remedies."

How to preserve health and beauty are told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, TO COVER MAILING ONLY; cloth binding, 37 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

BULOTTI-SMALL

WEDDING ON THURSDAY

MISS RENA SMALL BECOMES THE BRIDE OF FRED BULOTTI

The Bride and Groom a Popular Couple

A pretty home wedding was solemnized by Father Leahy on Thursday when Miss Rena Small became the bride of Fred Bulotti. The ceremony took place at high noon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Small on Napa street. Only the immediate relatives were present. Miss Gladys Small was bridesmaid and Mr. Geo. Bulotti acted as best man.

The bride wore a handsome gray crepe de chine gown and carried a shower bouquet of bride's rosebuds. She wore no veil, but the golden hair that crowns her head was accentuated by a single flower, which was wonderfully becoming. Miss Gladys Small, the bridesmaid, wore white with pink roses. After the ceremony a delicious wedding feast was partaken of. The dining room was decorated in pink and white streamers, gladioli and greens. There were toasts to the bride and speech-making, after which the bride dressed for the wedding tour. Her going away gown was a stylish green cloth and with it she wore a white shirred chiffon picture hat.

Amid rice and old shoes they took their departure at three o'clock for San Francisco. The whereabouts of the honeymoon trip is unknown, but Mr. and Mrs. Bulotti expect to return to Sonoma the first of the week. Mr. Bulotti has built and furnished a pretty modern cottage here for his bride, and there they will reside.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Judge and Mrs. Small and is a beautiful girl.

Mr. Bulotti is a young man of excellent attainments, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bulotti, a much respected family.

School-District Lines

A petition, which will be presented to the Board of Supervisors, is being circulated among the residents of that part of the old Sonoma school district lying outside the town incorporation, praying that such territory be included in the district.

Action of this sort is compelled by Section 1576 of the Political Code, which provides that each incorporated town shall constitute a separate school district unless subdivided or added to by the Board of Supervisors.

By order of the Board of Supervisors, County Clerk Wright has notified the school trustees of Sebastopol, Healdsburg, Sonoma and Cloverdale that the outlying portion of each district must be joined to the incorporated portion by official order, that both may be subject to the special school tax levy, which otherwise would apply to the incorporated portion alone.

Death Claims Our Own

Mrs. H. H. Granice died at her home here last Sunday evening, after an illness of only one week. Death came as a great shock to the family and many friends.

The immediate cause of death was peritonitis, but the disease that started in this fatal malady was a rare one, which baffled all medical skill. Everything that could be done was done in the endeavor, to save her life, but the service of three physicians was without avail.

Mrs. Granice was a native of San Francisco, aged 43 years. She had lived here twenty years. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, H. H. Granice, editor of this paper; her mother, Mrs. R. J. Keogh, of Sonoma; two brothers, Austin Keogh of San Francisco and R. E. Keogh of Sacramento; and three daughters, Celeste, Julie, and Ramona Granice.

Funeral services were held at the family home on Tuesday morning, and were attended by relatives and friends from all over the state. The floral offerings were costly and beautiful. Among them was a handsome pillow from the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, bearing the inscription, "Rest."

Wednesday morning the remains were taken to San Francisco, and cremated at Odd Fellows' cemetery.

OBITUARY

To Mrs. Catherine Granice

"But when the sun in all his state
Illumed the western skies,
She passed through glory's evening gate
And walked in paradise."

When a bright light is quenched the darkness seems doubly deep, when a bright life goes out the gloom seems doubly deep. In the holy calm of Sunday last a "silent messenger" lingered at a loving household. No knock announced his mysterious presence; no parleying at the portal. Unseen he stood at the bedside of a cherished wife, then peacefully, sweetly, silently extinguished that exquisite spark. This dear lady possessed a beautiful character of rare and gentle grace, brilliant and social, with a mind of action and expansion, keeping in touch with the topics and doings of the day, which has won her prominence in affairs of business. Always devoted to family and friends—of the latter she had a host. She taught others unconsciously, high, low and poor alike learning from her the lessons of charity, patience and perseverance.

Hospitality, that grand old virtue which is meant to link our lives more closely together, ran like a thread of gold through the web of a broad mind, always performing kindly little offices with dainty grace and delicacy of feeling. And now, though the door of her earthly life be closed after years of usefulness, still remains an influence as potent as it is precious. A wife, a mother, a daughter and friend, we mourn and miss—but Heaven rejoiceth in the gathering of a perfect sheaf.

Card of Thanks

To the many friends and neighbors who so kindly came to us in our late bereavement, we express sincere and heartfelt thanks. We cannot express the appreciation we feel for the universal expressions of sympathy to us, and of honor and love for the departed wife and mother. "More helpful than all wisdom is one draught of simple human pity that will not forsake us."

H. H. GRANICE AND FAMILY.

Cremated in Odd Fellows' Cemetery

The remains of Mrs. E. Rufus, which had been in the receiving vault in Mountain Cemetery since last April, were taken to San Francisco Thursday morning and privately cremated at the Odd Fellows' Cemetery. The remains of this pioneer woman were accompanied on the sad journey by her devoted daughter, Miss Louisa Rufus.

Settle Your Difficulties On Top Your House

The easiest and most effectual way to end the troubles you may be having at home on account of a defective roof is to cover it with E-latrite or Mastie roofing, which is the only made that does not wear out and you will find that it will never cost you another cent after it is once laid. It is the one roofing that meets all exigencies, resisting the heat of the summer and the cold of the winter; is not affected by climatic conditions, needs no painting, is fire proof and will not leak. Send for samples of Elatrite and Mastie and full information and you will learn something interesting. Sam Meyer, Healdsburg, distributor for Sonoma, Lake and Mendocino counties.

GLEN ELLEN

By Chappie.

A. M. Hardman has a good supply of U. S. letter boxes on hand and they are going fast.

Talk about your luck! Wednesday while Harold Weise was going swimming in the creek with several other boys, he found a $10 gold piece rolling up the bank to him. It is needless to say he picked it up.

The following persons from Glen Ellen attended the funeral services of Mrs. H. H. Granice at Sonoma, Tuesday: Mrs. Gordenker, Mrs. Merlino Jones, Judge Gibson and R. P. Hill.

Mr. Chauvet is laying new three inch water pipe in Glen Ellen. This will be a great improvement over the old water system, as it will give us a good supply of water with a good force, which was sadly needed.

Supervisor Blair Hart was in town Sunday shaking hands with his numerous friends and talking politics. Mr. Hart is a candidate on the Democratic ticket for reelection to the office he has filled so perfectly.

Mrs. Flemming of San Francisco, who occupies one of the O'Donnell cottages, almost lost one of her fingers chopping kindling wood the other evening. She was obliged to have Dr. Crepin take several stitches in the injured member.

Mr. Harry Weise was nominated for Supervisor on the Republican ticket, which of course is old news, nevertheless he is the right man in the right place and, best of all, on the right ticket. "Chappie" will give you his vote all right, Harry.

The brickyard must be doing a flourishing business now-a-days. Last Tuesday Judge Gibson issued 120 warrants from different persons for all sorts and conditions of sums. This is the largest number of warrants sent out in one day from any Justice Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonbright and little son are here from the east visiting Mr. Bonbright's mother. From all indications it looks as though they intend making this valley their future home. We are glad to welcome you here and hope you will stay with us.

We had a genuine "hold up" in Glen Ellen the other night. A Frenchman living in one of the Chauvet cottages was waylaid and knocked down by two workmen just as he was about to enter his gate. His scalp is badly lacerated and he is confined to his bed. It is not known whether they meant robbery or revenge. Anyway they didn't get any money.

The sad news of Mrs. Granice's death was received with much sorrow by her Glen Ellen friends and acquaintances. Mrs. Granice was a clever and noble lady of many excellent traits and qualities. To know her was to love her. Words cannot express the great esteem in which I held her. She was a lady that any one may consider a privilege to meet. We extend to you, friends and relatives, our heartfelt sympathy in your time of sorrow.

CHAPPIE.
Glen Ellen, Aug. 17, 1904.

An Afflicted Family

One child dying a few days ago of diphtheria and two others down with the same disease, is the trouble Mr. J. Farinolo's family, living five miles from Santa Rosa on the Petaluma road is undergoing. The father is absent in the east, which adds to the affliction.

Saved a Boy's Life

A tramp called "Texan Jack" jumped from the high trestle bridge near Healdsburg, Sunday, fifty feet down into the Russian River and rescued a ten-year-old boy from drowning. He refused a handsome purse which the parents of the boy tendered him.

Made His Own Jail.

Among the early Comstockers, the makers of Virginia City, Nev., were some of the toughest specimens of humanity loose in the world in those days, and perhaps the most primitive one in the lot was "Red Mike." The fellow appeared to be equipped only with brute instincts, but there was human intelligence of a sort in the back of his head, and he gave an exhibition of prudent forethought that would have been creditable to a wiser man.

"Red Mike" was employed as bricklayer in the building of a jail, which was one of Virginia City's first and most imperative needs, and he thoughtfully omitted the mortar and laid a number of bricks dry and loose at several places in the wall.

In the natural order of things "Red Mike" committed a serious offense and was thrown into jail to await trial, for even in the early days the Comstock usually tried a man before hanging him. The next morning the jail was empty. "Red Mike" had made a hole in the wall by taking out some of his own handiwork, and when he went out he took all the other prisoners with him.

Italy and the Evil Eye.

It is hard for us to realize the deadly significance to an Italian of the suggestion that one may have the evil eye. I was walking one day with a young American girl to whom I had been known connected with the superstition. She took it all lightly and joyously, after the manner of her kind, and later, during our walk, when a saucy, tormenting beggar pursued us, she made the sign of the cross as I had described it to her, shaking the hand slightly with the first and the fourth finger extended. Then the beggar became convulsed with anger and seemed almost beside herself, shrieking out such a torrent of abuse that we were glad to jump into a cab and fly from the wrath to come. The poor creature was not to be blamed; she knew that once the shadow of suspicion falls it means social excommunication, banishment outside the pale of whatever society one belongs to.—Century.

Whistler's Fine Arts.

Mortimer Menpes, the artist, in his book on Whistler, says: "Sometimes we visited a dealer who owed him money, and Whistler would receive a check. Once the check was not handed to him in what he thought a sufficiently dignified manner, and he said to the dealer: 'This is curious of you. You push this check toward me, and it is not to realize what a privilege it is to be able to hand it to the master. You should offer it on a rich old English silver salver and in a kindly way.' Once a dealer borrowed a gorgeously embossed silver salver for the occasion, and when the master arrived for his check—he was very punctual—presented it on the salver with a carefully worded and elegant little speech that he had taken some pains to rehearse. The master was pleased. 'This,' said he, 'is as it should be!'

A Curious Freak of Lightning.

The old adage that "lightning never strikes twice in the same place" has often been disproved. Here is an instance in point: In the summer of 1881 the farmhouse of Henry Axtell, in Channing county, N. Y., was struck by lightning three times in one day. First it split the chimney from top to bottom, ruined stove and pipe and bored several large holes in the floor. An hour later a "bolt" struck the same house and tore a milk bench, upon which several cans of milk were setting, all to pieces. The same evening a third flash entered the roof and tore the legs from a bedstead.

Quaint Cures of Old.

For epilepsy wear a ring, made from a coffin ring and take seven drops of blood from the tail of a cat. These remedies are equally efficacious either separately or in conjunction. For toothache carry in the pocket the tooth of a soldier killed in battle or eat a piece of bread or trim your nails on a Friday. To cure warts, rub a potato and give the potato to a pig, or rub them with a piece of chalk, then put it in a little bag and throw it across cross roads. Holding the affected finger in the ear of a cat for half an hour was reckoned an excellent remedy for a felon.

His Estimate.

"How far do you travel in crossing the ocean from Liverpool to New York?" asked the instructor at the night school.

"Four thousand miles."

"Oh, no. Think again."

"That's right," persisted the shaggy haired pupil. "I know the book says 2,000 miles, and that's what it is in a straight line, but I've counted in the ups and downs. I've been across!"—Chicago Tribune.

His Trade.

"And you say you have a trade?" asked the kind lady at the door.

"Yes'm," said the tramp. "I'm a worker in precious metals and stones."

"Indeed! And can't you get anything to do?"

"No'm. de perlice and de jewelers are all on to the."

Used to It.

Tommy was visiting a neighbor. At dinner the hostess apologized to him because the table linen was soiled at his plate.

"Oh, that's nothing," he assured her promptly. "Ours is worse'n that at home."—Brooklyn Life.

Why, Indeed?

"Why does a woman always think she ought to wear a smaller shoe than she can?" She—Why does a man always think he ought to wear a larger hat than he can?—Yonkers Statesman.

Silkworm Fishing Lines.

A tourist friend who has recently returned from a trip through the south of Europe was telling the other day of the large proportions assumed by the production of silkworm gut for fishing lines in Spain since the decline of silk culture there. The grub is fed on mulberry leaves as usual in silk culture, but before it begins to spin that is, in May and June—it is killed by immersion in vinegar. The substance which would have formed the cocoon is then drawn out from its body in the form of a thick silken thread, which is treated with chemicals and afterward dried. These threads are made up in bundles of a hundred each, and the Spanish peasants travel with them along the shores of the Mediterranean as far as France. The best quality of the gut, as every fisherman knows or ought for his own protection when shopping to know, is round. The flat shank article is always inferior and is due, not, as often supposed, to careless drawing of it, but to unhealthiness in the worm which furnished it.—Forest and Stream.

South Pole Seals.

Seals, according to the crew of the antarctic exploring ship Discovery, are abundant near the south pole. They are very tame and can be clubbed by any one without showing more fight than opening their jaws and making a harsh noise. They are possessed of extraordinary vitality and are not easy to kill. Antarctic seals are not provided with marketable fur. The skins of the majority of seals in the antarctic regions show an extraordinary number of clearings, some old and some recent, which for some time have been a puzzle to zoologists. It is a question whether they are the result of warfare among the bull seals or are caused by attacks of some monster not yet known to science. Some light has been shed on this subject by the discovery of remains of an ordinary seal in the stomach of a sea leopard, which is provided with a very fierce set of teeth, quite in keeping with the possible habit of feeding on other seals.

Taken With Cramps.

Wm. Kirtm, a member of the bridge gang working near Littleport, was taken suddenly ill Thursday night with cramps and a kind of cholera. His case was so severe that he had to leave the members of the crew wait upon him and Mr. Gifford was called and consulted. He told them he had a medicine in the form of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy that he thought would help him out and accordingly several doses were administered with the result that the fellow was able to be around next day. The incident speaks highly of Mr. Gifford's medicines.—Elkader, Iowa, Argus.

Scolding.

Scolding is mostly a habit. It is often the result of nervousness and an irritable condition of both mind and body. A person is tried or annoyed at some trivial cause and forthwith commences finding fault with everything and everybody within reach. Scolding is a habit very easily formed. It is astonishing how soon one becomes addicted to it and confirmed in it. It is an unreasoning and unreasonable habit. Persons who once get into the way of scolding always find something to scold about. If there is nothing else, they begin scolding at the mere absence of anything to scold at. It is an extremely disagreeable habit. It is contagious. Once introduced into a family, it is pretty certain in a short time to affect all the members.—Exchange.

Japanese Buddhists.

Japanese Buddhists have a word, "nazomaru," which is translated by the dictionaries as "to imitate," but it has the esoteric meaning of "to substitute in imagination one object or action for another, so as to bring about some magical or miraculous result." An example of this is laying a pebble before the image of Buddha to show that you would like to build a temple in his honor if you were rich enough, and making a bookcase revolve which contains the 6,771 volumes of the Buddhist canon and earnestly wishing that you had time to read them, by which you acquire the same merit in the eyes of heaven as if you did read them. The bookcase is fitted with a kind of capstan for the purpose.

Peg Tankards.

The pegging or marking of drinking cups was introduced by St. Dunstan to check the intemperate habits of the times by preventing one man from taking a larger draft than his companions. But the device proved the means of increasing the evil it was intended to remedy, for, refining upon St. Dunstan's plan, the most abstemious were required to drink precisely to a peg or pin, whether they could soberly take such a quantity of liquor or not.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera & Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps a Life is Saved.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I not gotten relief," says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of John, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty-five-cent bottle and, after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints."
